

I would like for VRS, D-link, or whatever other models can be used as video phone should be "treated" like how TTY's are "treated" which pretty much same way how hearing people can just pick up the phone and make calls that they want to. Currently, I don't own a TTY only VRS, its the only phone I have and now I have concerns about how to make emergency calls and so on.
Thanks.
